Contract on Dam Awarded Today

The final step in the construction of Barkley Dam and Powerhouse on the Cumberland River was reached by the award of the third stage contract to the Guest K. Newberg Construction Company of Chicago, Illinois. Colonel Vincent P. Carlson, District Engineer of the Nashville District, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, announced the award of the contract today.

Guest K. Newberg submitted a low bid of $27,050,702.00, which was approximately one percent below the Government estimate.

The work to be performed under this contract consists of maintaining an existing cofferdam and constructing a new cofferdam; construction of a reinforced concrete powerplant and installation of all Government-furnished electrical equipment; placing of earth fill dam section, approximately 7,100 feet long by 45 feet high; concrete spillway section, 816 feet long; and construction of a single-track railroad bridge across the powerhouse, millrace and lock, approximately 1,740 feet long.

The contractor will be required to complete the entire work within 1500 calendar days after receipt of notice to proceed.

The initial construction contract on the Barkley Project for the construction of the cofferdam and lock excavation was awarded in 1957 and completed in 1959. The second contract was awarded to Tecon Corporation, Dallas, Texas, for construction of the modern 110 x 800 lock structure, which was completed in July 1961. A contract for construction of the cofferdam for the powerplant and a portion of the dam was awarded to Dravo Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in April 1961, and is now 97 percent complete.

Excavation of the canal that will connect the Kentucky Lake and Barkley Lake is being performed by J. D. Barter Construction Company of Harrisburg, Illinois, and is approximately forty percent complete.

The first stage impoundment of the reservoir for temporary operation is scheduled for the fall of 1963 with final impoundment planned one year later. The initial unit in the powerplant is scheduled to be in production in November 1964 and the final unit in November 1965. The entire project is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1966.

The Murray Junior Chamber of Commerce held its monthly dinner meeting at the Triangle Restaurant Tuesday night, 20 February. Several items of business were discussed, but the item which attracted the most interest was of interest to all Calloway Counties is the Murray-Calloway Fair which is scheduled for July 16 through 21, 1961.

In November, 1961 the Jaycees purchased a 72 acre tract of land approximately 2 miles Northwest of Murray on the Coldwater Road for use by the Fair. Bill Pogue, Jaycee President, appointed Ed Kingery, Harry Allison, Nat Greene, and Will Ed Stokes as a Fairground layout Committee to work with the Fair Board in planning for the 1962 Fair layout.

Kingery reported to the members that plans are underway now to begin cleaning the fair grounds off in preparation for the coming fair. He solicited the support of all members in assisting with the tremendous job ahead.

Z. C. Enis, Chairman of the Fair Board Committee also reported to the members on the progress that has been made on presenting the 1962 Fair. He emphasized the point that the Fair is not a money making project as such, but the Fair must be able to pay its way and to pay for the grounds which the Jaycees are obligated. He solicited the support of all club members and further requests the support of all civic and professional groups and clubs of the County.

"It's the participation of the people of Murray and the county that makes the Fair a success. It's not too early to begin thinking of exhibits to display at the 1962 Fair," he said.

Four new members were accepted into the club Tuesday night. They were Zane N. Coleman, National Life and Accident Insurance salesman; Larry W. Hawes, Murray State student; Sinden R. Jones, Ledger and Times; Fred W. Wells, Glyco Wells electrician.

The next meeting will be at Murray City Hall on 6 March at 7:00 p. m.

Faulty Signal Gave Scare To Scientists

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UPI) — A radio signal that shouldn't have been had scientists fearful for the life of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. near the end of his three-orbit journey Tuesday.

Had the signal been correct, Glenn could have died a flaming death as his Friendship 7 space capsule plunged back through the atmosphere toward its planned landing area in the Atlantic Ocean.

Milestone Passed In Campus Lights Production At College

By ROBERT BAAR

Murray State College has just witnessed a big milestone in their annual production of Campus Lights. This year's show, conducted by the talented musician Jack Gardner, and his assistant Paul Davis, and written by Al Koehn and Howard Potter, was a tremendous hit, and a fitting tribute to the twenty-five years of diligent work put out by the students of the campus and especially the music department. It was a show of fine silver for their Silver Anniversary.

It proved to be erroneous, but not before scientists made several flash-decisions that changed the procedure for bringing Glenn back from space and had them sitting on the edge of chairs around the world for the last half-hour.

As Glenn soared over the Pacific Ocean for the third time, instruments at ground tracking stations picked up a signal that indicated the vital heat shield on the base of the capsule had come loose.

The shield is a curved piece of metal and special plastic designed to absorb the heat of atmospheric friction during reentry without it, the more fragile parts of Friendship 7 would have been exposed to, and probably have melted under temperatures ranging up to 3,000 degrees.

"We had the choice of whether to believe we had a faulty micro-switch or a faulty relay," said Walt Williams, operations chief for the $400 million Mercury man-in-space program. He called it a "false indication" of heat shield separation.

Glenn was advised of the apparent problem a few minutes later as capsule swung back toward the North American continent, where reverse rockets to slow down were to be fired.

Anxiety increased as the astronaut prepared to trigger the three braking rockets which were supposed to be still attached to the heat shield. The tension relaxed as Glenn reported he "felt like I was going back the other way," indicating the retro-rockets had fired normally.

This in turn indicated the heat shield was still attached, but how firmly was another question. Scientists decided to forego the usual procedure of jettisoning the retro-rocket back because, as long as it was still strapped on, the shield could not come loose.

Winding up this season, the Murray High Tigers will play South Marshall Friday night in the final game in the Murray gym. B-Team gametime is 6:45 with the Varsity playing at 8 o'clock.

Next week the Tigers will face South Marshall in the District Tournament in the Murray State Arena. Earlier in the year Murray defeated the Rebels 57-51.

Coach Eli Alexander says the team are "pretty evenly matched." "The team that plays the best game will win," he added. Local fans will see an exciting game Friday night as a prelude to next week's tournament.

Booklet On Fallout Shelter Given Out By Boy Scouts

Lieutenant Colonel John O. Pasco, Director of the Murray-Calloway County Civil Defense Organization announced today that 4,000 copies of the Civil Defense booklet, "The Family Fallout Shelter," has been received from the Department of Defense for distribution in Murray and Calloway County.

2200 copies of the booklet will be distributed today—Washington's Birthday—within the City limits of Murray by the Boy Scouts of America under the supervision of Everett Jones, Assistant District Commissioner, Chief Chennubby District, BSA, Troop 45, under the direction of Scoutmaster Tom Williams, will deliver the booklets to all of the homes north of Main Street, Troop 77, with Scoutmaster Raphael Jones and Assistant Scoutmaster Bob Overby in charge, will distribute the booklets to the homes in the area south of Main Street.

1100 copies of "The Family Fallout Shelter" have been distributed by the Woodmen of the World throughout Calloway County. Mrs. Barlett Wraether has used over 300 copies of the booklet as a special project on Family Fallout Shelters in all the Calloway County Homemakers Clubs. Additional copies of the booklet are available at the office of Mr. S. V. Foy, Calloway County Agent, at 209 Maple Street.

Colonel Pasco stated that the purpose of the booklet, "The Family Fallout Shelter," is to show how to escape death from radioactive fallout in an atomic war. This booklet contains building plans for five basic fallout shelters. Each of these shelters incorporates the fundamentals of fallout protection—shielding mass, ventilation, and space to live. These plans have been approved by the Office of Civil Defense, Department of Defense and by the Federal Housing Administration for FHA insured loans in new and existing houses. The local banks can assist any home owner in processing FHA loans for the construction of approved fallout shelters.

Prescribed Metal Fallout Shelters are available locally from Geurin Concrete Products and Hale Lock Shop, both located on the Mayfield Highway. These fallout shelters meet Civil Defense and FHA specifications. Model fallout shelters are on display at both locations. All of the local building contractors are qualified to assist home owners in constructing fallout shelters, Pasco said.

More Checkups, Interviews

On tap for Glenn today was another round of checkups and interviews that will give Project Mercury officials a full picture of the astronaut's three trips around the globe. The briefing team expected to confirm their preliminary conclusion about the 40-year-old Marine's condition: "No change in pre-flight status—everything normal."

After Glenn's session with scientists and doctors Wednesday, astronaut spokesman John A. Powell reported: "John is in excellent condition. A preliminary physical did not reveal any sign of physiological change."

One of the medical examiners, Dr. Ashton Graybiel, said in fact that Glenn did "just a hair better" on some of his balance tests following the flight than he did in pre-flight checks.

Discuss "Lightning Bugs"

Another part of the briefing was devoted to the mysterious "lightning bugs from space" the astronaut saw each time he passed.

J. H. Walston Was At Conference

J. H. Walston of Ryan Milk Company attended a training conference for field men and sanitarians at the University of Kentucky, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The heart of the mechanism that controls the way many plants respond to their environment has been found by U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) scientists to be a light-sensitive blue pigment.

They named the pigment phytochrome. It promises to be the key to improved control of plant growth from seed germination through flowering and fruiting, the USDA reported.

Glenn Nervous, Friday Meeting With President

By CHARLES E. TAYLOR

United Press International

GRAND TURK ISLAND, Bahamas (UPI) — John Glenn tackled the final phase of his official report on earth-orbiting today, "a little nervous" about his triumphant meeting Friday with President Kennedy.

But the President will bring with him members of the astronaut family, and Glenn was reportedly "living from moment to moment" for the reunion with his wife, children and parents.

The astronaut was up at 6 a. m. (EST) to continue physical check-up and his account of the flight that made him the first American to orbit the globe in space. He had stayed up until midnight signing autographs at a party in his honor.

Scientists reported that findings so far indicated that a man in space "is a heck of a lot better than a black box."

The Marine Corps officer had his eyes widely dilated during the morning and more tests were scheduled in the afternoon. His spokesman said the "de-briefing" sessions were running a little behind schedule and that Glenn probably would be unable to take a break today as he did Wednesday.

Vice President Lyndon Johnson is due here Friday by jet to escort Glenn back to Cape Canaveral for a meeting with President Kennedy. Glenn will take the President on a tour of the launching site of Tuesday's orbital flight, and the President will present Glenn with a medal.

Following with the President will be Glenn's wife, his and her parents and the two Glenn children. The family was to make the plane trip from Washington to Palm Beach today.

Vice President Lyndon Johnson was due at this Project Mercury island, base Friday to accompany the astronaut to the Cape.

After Glenn's session with scientists and doctors Wednesday, astronaut spokesman John A. Powell reported: "John is in excellent condition. A preliminary physical did not reveal any sign of physiological change."

Fontana Dam led the list of registrants with 267,226. Kentucky Dam was second with 119,281 and Pickwick Landing was third with 59,088.

Officials of the TVA said only about 7 per cent of the estimated 10.6 million visitors last year signed visitor's registers.

WATERMELONS, TOO

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas has cattle, cotton and oil in abundance, but it also is a watermelon state, the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service says.

Texas plants upwards of 100,000 acres of watermelons for commercial production each year, destined for many markets throughout the nation, the service said.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press International

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)

—The baseball honeymoon is over today for young Lew Krause.

Probably you remember him. He's the youngster who last year took a $125,000 bonus from the Kansas City A's, stepped right out of high school at 18 and beat the Los Angeles, 4-0.

This year he's earmarked for Binghamton of the Eastern League, a class A circuit which is three giant steps down the baseball ladder.

It is, the way the A's have it figured, only a detour to greatness. Under their program, they could keep him in the big time but the resulting lumps might ruin him.

"He has to pitch and pitch regularly," explained pitching coach Ed Popat. "He won't get the work up here. So for him I'll be off to Binghamton. If he burns out up there, we can move him along to Albuquerque, a double-A ball, or even up to Portland in triple-A. But first he's got to have the change to work."

Need Control

The plump draw a shrug from the slender six footer with the blue eyes and blond hair.

"I know now how much I really have to learn," says the kid from Chester, Pa. "Personally, I feel I can pitch in the majors. But I know that control is my weak spot and I need a lot of work on it. With control, I'll be a 50 per cent better pitcher."

At 18, working for success after already banking $125,000, has to come as some sort of a surprise.

In high school, the well-spoken Lew pitched 18 no-hit games over a two-year span. Then, winning his first start in the major leagues couldn't be expected to make him figure he had to toil like a peon.

"I might have gotten a little cocky," the boy admits honestly. "I guess stepping right in and winning your first game like that might do it to anybody. I had an idea it was all just like in high school. What a shock I got."

Shelled From Mound

Lew was shelled from the mound several times after that, although he did win his last game of the season, a 3 to 2 six-inning against Washington. But he ended up with a record of only two wins against five losses. Working only 56 innings in 12 games he staggered in with a 4.85 earned run average.

"I had no idea what it meant to be in shape," Lew confessed as he reported for the opening of the A's training camp. "I know now, and I'm working."

He'd have to really stun them, however, to stay with the team, said Lopat.

"Lew looks as good as any kid I ever saw," he said, adding emphatically, "for that age. He has all the qualities. He's a battler and he's conscientious. But he's not going to be kept on this club. He needs the work that he'll get in class A ball. He's got to pitch 200 innings or better, even if he wins 30 games. But we're not going to see his confidence ruined."

Three-Year Plan

"In two years, maybe less," added Lopat, "he'll be ready for the majors and by then he'll only be 20 years old. Maybe even then he'll have to go back to the minors a year or so, but this way he'll make it by the time he's 22. You just can't abuse good talent. We don't intend to."

The lean and hungry A's are working on a "three-year plan," a blueprint for baseball's blue ribbon by 1964. Even riding the buses, the well-heeled young man can be thankful that he's a vital statistic in their timetable. But there's no doubt that right now the honeymoon is over.

The Portuguese province of Angola is larger than Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Tennessee put together.

Murray Gets Balanced Scoring To Down Arkansas State; Breaks Home Win Skein

A capable Murray State squad broke away near the end of the first half to post an 80-74 victory over Arkansas State at Jonesboro last night. The win ended a 10-game home win skein for the Indians.

Murray got an effective offensive punch from four men who scored in double figures. It was the second win by Murray over the team this season and pushed the Racers' season mark to 13-11, assuring at least a .500 record.

Saturday night Murray State hosts Tennessee Tech in the last contest of the season.

It was a close-fought game all the way and the biggest Murray lead was only nine points. After fifteen minutes of see-saw action in the first period the Racers broke away to run up a slim half-time advantage.

Joe Parker connected for a three point trip with 5:30 remaining and put Murray on top 26-25. The 'Breds never trailed again. Murray, scoring 40 points in each half, held a 40-36 edge at the halftime stop.

Arkansas State made several threats in the contest with the most serious coming in the last 26 seconds of play. Jerry Rook pushed in a fielder to trim the margin to two points, 76-74. But Ron Greene, turning in a sterling performance for the Racers, flipped in two straight baskets.

Jim Jennings led Murray's scoring with 20 points, Greene and Scott Schlosser each scored 19, and Al Varnas hit for 14. Gaylon Ward paced the Indians with 19 points. He was followed by Rook and Warren Moore with 16 each, and Shatley and Callahan with 11 each.

Murray hit a respectable 44 per cent from the field cashing in on 32 of 72 attempts. State hit 28 of 80 for 35 per cent. Murray also controlled the boards 59-49.

Murray (80)

Greene 18, Jennings 20, Schlosser 19, Varnas 14, Walker 1, Parker 6, Mahoney 1.

NCAA Bound Western Rips Off 26th Victory At Home By Downing Stubborn Xavier 88-33

by United Press International

Western Kentucky, bound for the NCAA as the OVC representative, won its 26th game at home Wednesday night, defeating Xavier 88-33, and Georgetown rolled over Berea 101-81 in the first round of the KIAC Basketball Tournament.

The Hilltoppers got a 27 point performance from Bobby Rascoe, top scorer in the OVC as they twice stood off Musketeer rallies. Rascoe and Doug Smith hit crucial foul shots to run Western's overall record to 14-16.

Georgetown, top-seeded in the KIAC Tournament at Lexington, was paced to its win over celtardweller Berea by Dick Vories and Joe Farris who hit for 22 points each. The loss was the 20th in a row for Berea.

Eastern hit 59.7 per cent of its shots from the floor to swamp Middle Tennessee 113-69 at Richmond and run its OVC record to 5-4. Ronnie Pickett was high for the Maroons with 23 points.

Murray played outside the OVC and decided to host Arkansas State 80-74 after Ron Greene netted four shots from the charity line to clinch it for the Racers.

The University of Louisville Cardinals continued a strong late season comeback with an 85-63 win from Marquette at Freedom Hall. Bud Olsen hit for a new game high of 35 points for his career and led the Cards in helping dominate the boards.

Tonight first round play winds up in the KIAC Tournament with Bellarmine and Villa Madonna meeting in the first game, and Union facing Transylvania in the nightcap.

Bellarmine and Union tied for third in the conference with 7-3 records. Transylvania and Pikeville were the only KIAC teams to beat Georgetown during the regular season, and if the Pioneers get by Union tonight, they will face Georgetown in the semifinals Friday night. Pikeville will meet the Villa Madonna-Bellarmine winner.

In other action tonight Morehead plays at Marshall University in West Virginia; Cumberland faces William Carey College in the Birmingham Classic; and East Tennessee hosts Wofford College.

"Lively Luxury" might well describe the new Ford Galaxie 500 X/L which will be debuted at the Chicago Auto Show on February 17. Offered in both convertible and hard-top models, the 500 X/L features Thunderbird-type bucket seats and console as well as custom designed interior appointments. Unlike conventional cars, the control lever for either the 4-speed manual or 3-speed automatic transmissions are mounted on the console where they provide the driver with the greatest ease of operation. Available with a complete range of performance options, including Ford's new 406-cubic-inch engine, the new models will go on sale in Ford dealerships early in April.

Urge Moms, Dads And School Mams To Unlock Horns

NEW YORK (UPI) — "There has probably never been a time when parents have been so unhappy about their schools. Parents and teachers often do not see eye to eye on the important task of educating our children."

But there are things that can and should be done to improve the situation.

This is the message of a new Public Affairs Committee pamphlet, "You and Your Child's School," by Ernest Osborne, Professor of Education at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Osborne suggests some reasons for the barriers between teachers and mothers. But neither understanding the reasons nor joining the PTA is going far enough toward solving the problem, he said.

The booklet is full of suggestions and case histories of school systems in which parents are taking a vital part, in some cases actually joining in the instructional program and serving on curriculum committees.

The parent has a further obligation as a citizen, Osborne said. "The United States is unique in that the responsibility for the

It's Dramatic Work Anyway

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — When Peter Wolf tried out for a part in a high school play, the director suggested he paint the scenery.

Wolf, now 42, took the advice.

In most communities this board is elected by the voters, Osborne wrote, but "in practice, school elections are often held at very inconvenient times and comparatively few voters take the trouble to turn out."

"As a result, the character of the schools and their educational philosophy are determined not by the citizens with education and training but by a local political faction."

"Parents, as citizens, must play a more active role. . . If you, as a parent, are dissatisfied with any aspect of your local school, you should talk not only to the teachers and supervisory personnel but to the members of the board of education."

"And if you feel that the school is still failing to meet its responsibility to the oncoming generation, you may want to work for a stronger board."

and has made set designing his career.

He employs 20 persons at a large workshop on the Texas Fairgrounds and for a dozen years has helped stage summer musical productions in Dallas.

One of the toughest assignments for Wolf was designing settings for an outdoor production of "Showboat." And once his crew had to set up a huge stage in Oklahoma City in winds of 50 miles per hour.

Peter Wolf sets are shipped by vans from coast to coast. His work is well-known in the Dallas area, where Wolf moved in 1949. Before that he was designer and artist for a major broadcast network in New York at the age of 27.

Wolf's mother was an actress and he took an early interest in the theater. But he found his talents better suited to designing than acting and studied at summer theaters, art school and finished a graduate course at Yale Drama School in 1941.

His creations now come to life in a spacious two-story building, where Wolf works swiftly at a desk in a corner of a suite of offices. Carpenters and painters on his staff transform blueprints into theatrical sets, often using brushes as large as brooms.

COULDN'T HOLD HIS LIQUOR ROBBERY MONEY—Ramon Molina, 36, wears a nylon stocking mask and a look of frustration as he is booked in Los Angeles. He and David Perez, 30, came out of a liquor store only to run into police who had been alerted that the store was being robbed. Perez made the mistake of raising his rifle when the police shouted "Drop it and put up your hands!" He got drilled, and is in critical condition.

Tobacco Vote To Be Taken February 20

Burley tobacco growers will vote Tuesday, February 20, 1962, on marketing quotas for the next three crops, 1962-1964. Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers today.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are all those who produced burley tobacco in 1961 and shared in the crop or its proceeds. Also, each person who was either the owner or operator of a farm for which a 1961 burley tobacco allotment was established is eligible to vote, even though no tobacco was actually produced on the farm, if any of the allotment was preserved for history purposes.

For the 1962 crop of burley tobacco, the Department of Agriculture has announced a total of 8,751 acres available for allotment. This compares with 329,095 acres available for allotment last year.

"The decision to be made in the quota referendum can be simply stated," Chairman H. B. Fulton declared. "If quotas for burley tobacco are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting, the law provides that the present program will be continued for the next three crops — with penalties on 'excess' tobacco marketed, acreage allotments and price support."

"On the other hand, if more than one-third of the voters disapprove quotas by voting NO, there will be no marketing quotas, no penalties on 'excess' tobacco, and no price support program on the 1962 crop."

"In that event, another referendum would be held next year on marketing quotas for the next three crops."

Notices of individual farm acreage allotments will be mailed soon to farm operators so that they may know in advance of the vote how the quotas will affect their farming operations in 1962.

Chairman H. B. Fulton urged all eligible burley tobacco growers to vote in this important referendum.

The potato industry is awaiting the reaction of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to recommendations of the National Potato Advisory Committee of a three-part program to help potato producers.

The Committee, appointed by Freeman, has recommended establishment of acreage allotments and marketing quotas on potatoes and a nationwide marketing agreement and order to regulate the shipment of potatoes in interstate commerce.

The committee did not recommend price supports for potato producers.

Under the proposed recommendations, farmers planting two acres or less would be exempt from allotments and quotas. The proposed National Marketing Agreement and order would include provisions for quality and volume regulations, and provisions for marketing research and development projects.

The government's investment in price-supported commodities totaled $7,685,946,000 as of Dec. 31. This was about $38 million greater than the investment a month ago.

Wheat continued to be the top item in the investment. The government owned outright 1.13 billion bushels valued at $2.2 billion and held loans totaling $494.6 million on 276.6 million bushels.
